When you undervalue what you do
the world will undervalue

We now offer private in-house training to your nanny. One-on-one training takes place in the comfort of your home by one of our experienced facilitators. We are experts in the field, and we are excited to support and help your nanny to strengthen her current skills and experience and extend her knowledge in fields she might not be equipped in yet.

The impact of one on one training

A personalized approach to training can often be the most valuable to certain individuals. There is a great need for this type of coaching and not many training companies offer this.

The effectiveness of one-on-one training sessions will allow a facilitator to present very interactive sessions with the learner. Consequently, the facilitator will be able to concentrate on the individual's specific needs. The logic is that the person with the most expertise will pass it on to a less experienced person who needs to learn.

We will work with parents toward the individual's goals, this will be paramount. The facilitator can then slightly tailor the training examples or training method, to suit the individual's needs. This will result in spending more time on processes that will be more relevant to the individual's job, while spending only a short time on other, less-relevant areas.

By enrolling your nanny for the one-on-one, in-house training with The Nanny Movement, we will be able to assist you in personalizing the development of your nanny's skills.

A few things we will work towards:

- Empower her with relevant knowledge she needs to have, to holistically take care of your baby or child.
- Teach her how to be professional in her job and to respect boundaries set by parents.
- Help her understand the difference between working with her own children and someone else's children.
- Teach her basic life skills, like how to communicate with the parents properly, basic hygiene and safety when working with children.
- Teach her basic but relevant information on how brain development of a child work, and how to support this development.
- Give her information on how to work clever and safe in the kitchen.
- Help on how to start a baby's solids eating journey, picky eaters, healthy eating using a food pyramid, understanding portion sizes according to an age and giving them ideas for making food fun for children.
- How to support a growing child's emotional wellbeing.
- Encourage her to be a lifelong learner, especially in her field.
- Give her confidence in her job, and confidence to ask when she is not sure.
- Nurture that passion she must have to work with children.
- Grow your relationship with your nanny
- Make sure your nanny knows what you expect from her in her position.
